

I understand that Sinclair Broadcasting's is forcing their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. To me, this is a clear example of too much power in the hands of individual corporations.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for them and less of what we need for public interests.

These actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They demonstrate that license renewal process needs to be taken very seriously. Thank you.
